Message from the Headteacher:

Dear Parents and Carers,

This week has been another busy week at school. The children have been finishing off their topics and I have seen some lovely learning in class. I was lucky enough to visit the Roald Dahl class yesterday and the children were making beautiful clay pots. They are looking forward to decorating them in the style of Van Gogh. I was very impressed with how beautifully they were smoothing down the edges and using different tools to create patterns.

I also visited the Year Six children on Wednesday and saw their fantastic writing about the Ancient Egyptians. I learned all about how the Ancient Egyptians mummified their pharaohs and dead whilst I was there and the children enjoyed telling me all of the gory details!

Year five have written some fantastic Newspaper Reports and I'm looking forward to seeing these displayed in their classroom. I have also been very impressed with the art work in the style of David Hockney – these will be displayed around the school next half term.

Today the children have enjoyed dressing up as superheroes. It was great to see all of their fantastic costumes - we have lots of Marvel Superheroes and Doctors, Nurses, Teachers and even some delivery drivers! We are looking forward to launching our Reading Superpowers next half term because these will help the children focus on different reading skills.

Thank you to all of those parents who turned up to our Christmas Fayre planning meeting today. We have planned lots of exciting activities for our Christmas Fayre on Friday 3rd December. We are hoping to raise lots of money for the children in the school so that we can continue to improve our school offer and environment. Some of the money will also go towards our visit from Father Christmas.

Thank you for your ongoing support and I hope you have a relaxing half term.

Miss Debbie Conroy
